DEDICATION

President Millicent Carey McIntosh

The past fifteen years at Barnard have seen many changes and much progress under the guidance of President Millicent McIntosh. As Barnard improved its academic facilities and kept pace with modern educational developments, Mrs. McIntosh was there to direct and coordinate with wisdom and understanding. During her tenure as Dean, and then as the first president of Barnard in 1952, we have seen the introduction of pre-professional programs in education and social sciences, the Barnard-Columbia union of physics, mathematics, religion, music, and language departments, and the establishment of such helpful systems as the class advisory program, whereby each student receives individual guidance throughout her college career. We have seen new buildings sprout and flourish, as the new Lehman-Wollman Library and the Helen Reid Hall. We have grown as Barnard has grown, looking always to President McIntosh for guidance and advice.

Mrs. McIntosh's personal achievements have been ample proof of her conviction that a woman can successfully coordinate marriage with a career. While raising a family of five children, Mrs. McIntosh has not only played a key role in the development of higher education, but has also taken an active leadership in such education and community projects as the Morningside Housing Corporation, the Institute of International Education, and the CBS Foundation. The success with which President McIntosh has performed this dual role as educator and mother has been a source of inspiration for us at Barnard who aspire to both the domestic and professional. It reflects the belief of a woman who once said that "learning alone is not enough; it must be used with wisdom to make living creative and effective."

In June of 1962, President Millicent McIntosh will retire. During her fifteen years as Barnard's Dean and President, she has received many medals and honors as an outstanding woman and educator. We at Barnard would like to add to these awards our own expression of deep appreciation and gratitude.

The most lasting, and personally rewarding, tribute that we can pay to this pioneer in American education is to continually strive to fulfill the stringent, yet satisfying, requirements which she has set up as guideposts for our academic careers. It is as a result of her inspiring efforts that we shall emerge from Barnard as mature young women capable of meeting the challenges of modern society.

President McIntosh with Constance Foshay, Leah Salmansohn, Ruth Klein and Mr. Eugene King, of CBS, before going on the air.

Two presidents with deep ties to the University. This meeting took place on Thursday, October 19, 1961, at a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Class of 1962:

I am happy I have the opportunity to send a personal message to the Class of 1962, with whom I am graduating from Barnard. You have been a good class to work with, energetic and resourceful in all your activities. This year has been a busy and fruitful one as a result of the leadership your class has given to many interesting projects. Although there are many of you whom I do not know personally, I hope you will always remember that you can call on me as your President throughout your lives.

My best wishes to you for the future.

Millicent C. McIntosh

Delegates to our Southern Exchange Program

Directorship of College Activities at Barnard was the concluding role in the busy and varied career of Miss Katherine R. Goodwin. Miss Goodwin came to Barnard after distinguishing herself in the field of education as well as in the armed services during the war.

After receiving a B.S. degree from Russell Sage College, Miss Goodwin continued her education at the University of Connecticut, the University of Chicago, and the International People's College in Denmark. In 1923 she began teaching and continued to do so until the war interrupted, and in 1942 Miss Goodwin left Weaver High School to join the Women's Army Corps. By 1944 she had attained the rank of lieutenant colonel. She served on the staff of Col. Oveta Culp Hobby and as WAC officer for the Army Service Forces on the staff of the late Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell. She was awarded the WAC medal and was one of the few women to receive the Legion of Merit for her service.

It was during her service with the WACS that Miss Goodwin met Jean Palmer, then a WAVE, at a White House reception given by Mrs. Roosevelt. When, at the end of the war, Miss Goodwin returned to Weaver as Dean of Girls, she and Miss Palmer kept in touch via Christmas cards. Christmas 1955 brought news to Miss Palmer of her friend's imminent retirement from Weaver, with a request for information of interesting openings in New York. Miss Palmer returned news of an opening in the Barnard College Activities Office, and thus Miss Goodwin came to Barnard.

Students at Barnard remember the devotion, interest and skill which Katherine Goodwin brought to her job. She drew on a long experience in dealing with students; she exhibited an understanding of their ambitions and their problems. Her job included every non-academic phase of student life. During her six years at Barnard there were few who did not consult at some time with Miss Goodwin, either about social events, commuter problems, off-campus housing, or assembly fines.

She died on September 26th, two days before the beginning of the seventy-third year of the college she had served so well. We, the class of 1962, will remember her, for she was an integral part of our college experience. Funeral services were held at St. Paul's chapel, and the Undergraduate Association established the Katherine R. Goodwin Memorial Scholarship Fund, a fitting tribute to a woman who gave so much of her energies to the field of education.

Miss Helen Jenkins is one of Barnard's busiest and most well-known freshman. After working in the comparatively quiet field of Financial Aid to Education where she has almost no personal contact with students, Miss Jenkins now finds herself head of the not-so-quiet Student Activities Office, where she has (she may think) too much personal contact with students.

Like all Freshmen, Miss Jenkins did not know what life at Barnard would be like. How well she knows now! Bravely, along with all her classmates, Miss Jenkins kept up with her daily work as well as participated in the usual "extra curricular activities" such as attending meetings, planning for Greek Games, getting ready for dances and mixers, and attending teas and coffee hours. But in addition, this freshman was responsible for helping the girls find liveable off-campus housing, scrounging up opera tickets for those girls who were lucky enough to have time to use them, listening, comforting and drying the tears of all those who required it, as well as coordinating all the social events, presentations and club activities at Barnard.

JOHNSON HALL

Miss Jenkins has come through her orientation year with flying colors. Although ordinarily one would not say she hoped any Freshman would remain at Barnard for more than four years, in the case of Miss Jenkins, we hope she will remain for many years to come.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

MORTARBOARD '62 is a product of time, thought and work on the part of many individuals. I appreciate the efforts of each member of the staff and would like to thank her sincerely for the hard work and interest she has put into the book.

Special thanks to:
The Public Relations staff, especially Mrs. Rosenblum for the information and many pictures which she gave us.

Miss Helen Jenkins, Miss Carol Murray of the College Activities Office, and Mrs. Florence Bridges of Student Mail for helping the staff with many little things that ultimately meant a great deal.

Miss Nell Green and Miss Helen Coolidge of Apeda Studios for their patience, cooperation, and warm humor when most needed.

Charles C. Clegg of The Comet Press for his tolerance.

My thanks again to all the members of the staff with whom I have enjoyed working very much.

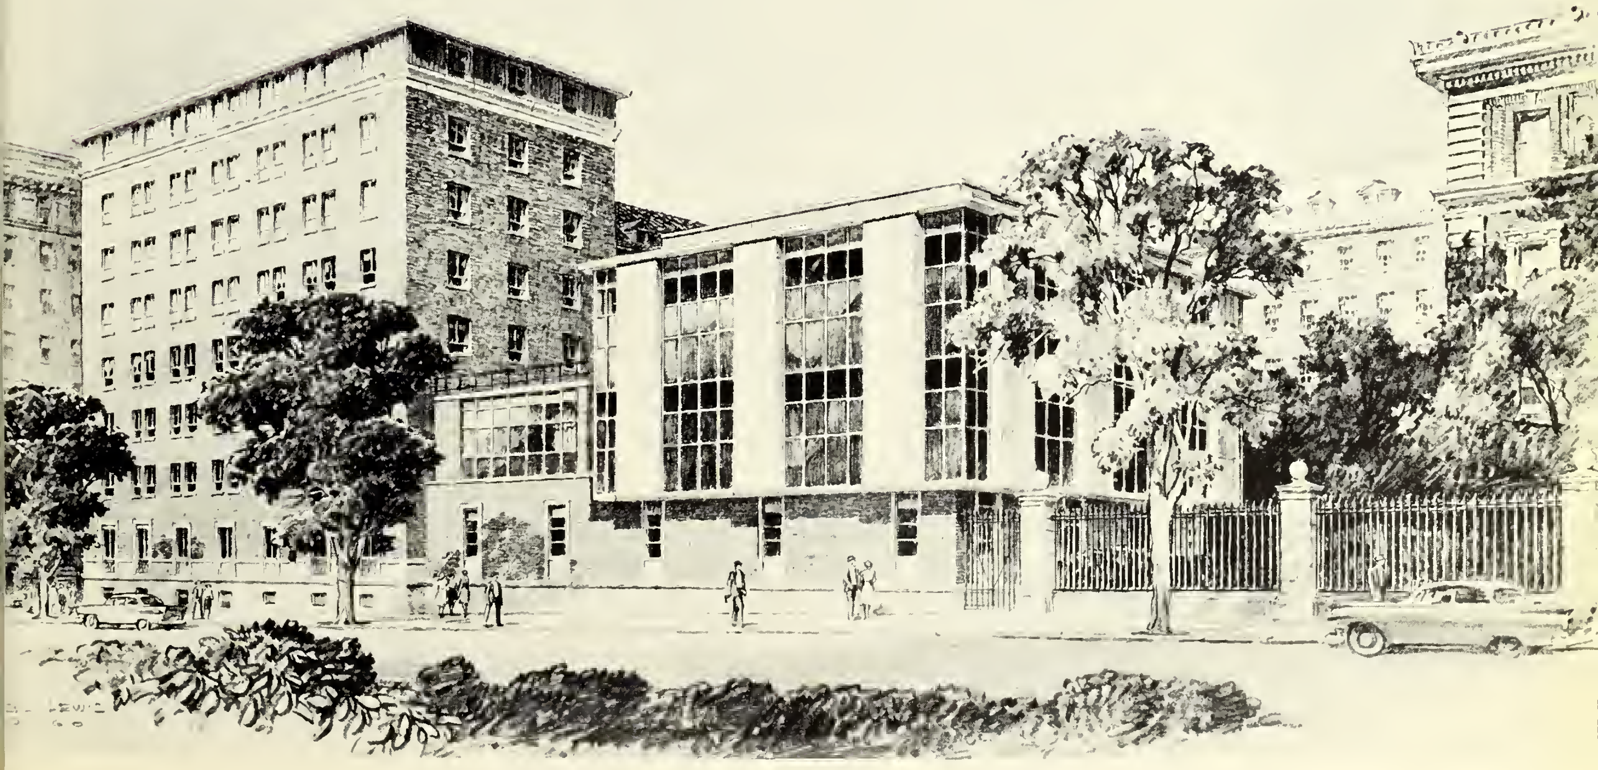
STUDENT CENTER

The new Student Center will make an important contribution to the Barnard campus. A part of Barnard's 1958 expansion program, the building will contain all the facilities and offices for student activities, including a large snack bar. The faculty dining room will have supplementary facilities for joint student-faculty luncheons and will be available for student use in the evenings. Locker space and dressing rooms for day students are also included in the Student Center plans. In addition to housing student activities the Student Center will free other space for Barnard's medical department, for seminars and for faculty offices.

Barnard's 1958 expansion program has provided for the Adele Lehman Hall-Wollman Library, a library-classroom building, and Helen Reid Hall, a dormitory, both of which have already been opened. New kitchen facilities and extensive remodelling of the old library in Barnard Hall have also been completed under this program.

The building of the Student Center is being made possible by a gift of $100,000 from the Milbank Memorial Fund. The gift is in honor of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson, who served as trustee of Barnard College from 1894 until 1921. During her lifetime Mrs. Anderson was the donor of the land on which the Barnard campus developed and, in addition, made gifts to the college for the construction of Milbank and Brooks halls. Groundbreaking for the new building is expected to take place in May, 1962.



THE NEXT PRESIDENT OF BARNARD

When Mrs. McIntosh announced that she would retire on June 30, 1962 everyone associated with Barnard, past and present, anxiously awaited the announcement of her successor. On Monday, September 18, 1961, Mr. Samuel Milbank, chairman of the selection committee which was composed of Barnard trustees, faculty members, and Columbia University representatives, announced the choice of Dr. Rosemary Park, now president of Connecticut College for Women.

Our new president is a scholar par excellence. She graduated summa cum laude from Radcliffe College in 1928 and received her Master of Arts degree in 1929. In 1934, she received her doctorate magna cum laude from the University of Cologne after having attended the University of Bonn. She also holds honorary degrees from Yale, Wesleyan, Mt. Holyoke, Douglass, Trinity, and Wheaton. She joined the faculty of Connecticut College as a instructor in German in 1935 and became dean of freshmen in 1941, academic dean and chairman of the German department in 1945 and president in 1947. She follows the tradition set by her father who was president of Wheaton College and her brother, now president of Simmons College. As well as academic duties, she has been and is still active in a number of civic, religious, and educational organizations.

Miss Park is well aware of the problems involved in educating young women. Deeply disturbed by their tendency to regard college education as a "pleasant luxury," she feels that "the woman's college must, therefore, demand that its students see their college careers as essential experiences in their lives. . . ."

Although Mrs. McIntosh will always hold a special place in the hearts of all who have been fortunate enough to come in contact with her, Miss Park's reputation and qualifications are assurance enough that she will be an excellent successor. No one could ever completely replace Millicent McIntosh but Rosemary Park, with her devoted concern for education and its creation of responsible and capable female citizens, will certainly be able to continue the Barnard tradition.

Over twelve thousand members of the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College
welcome 1962,
the newest class to join us.

It was alumnae who started the Barnard library and placement office, ran a cooperative dormitory for undergraduates, and purchased Barnard Camp for the College. It is alumnae who still administer our Student Loan Fund and advise on vocations.

We know that like their predecessors, 1962 alumnae will find pleasure in helping future undergraduates.

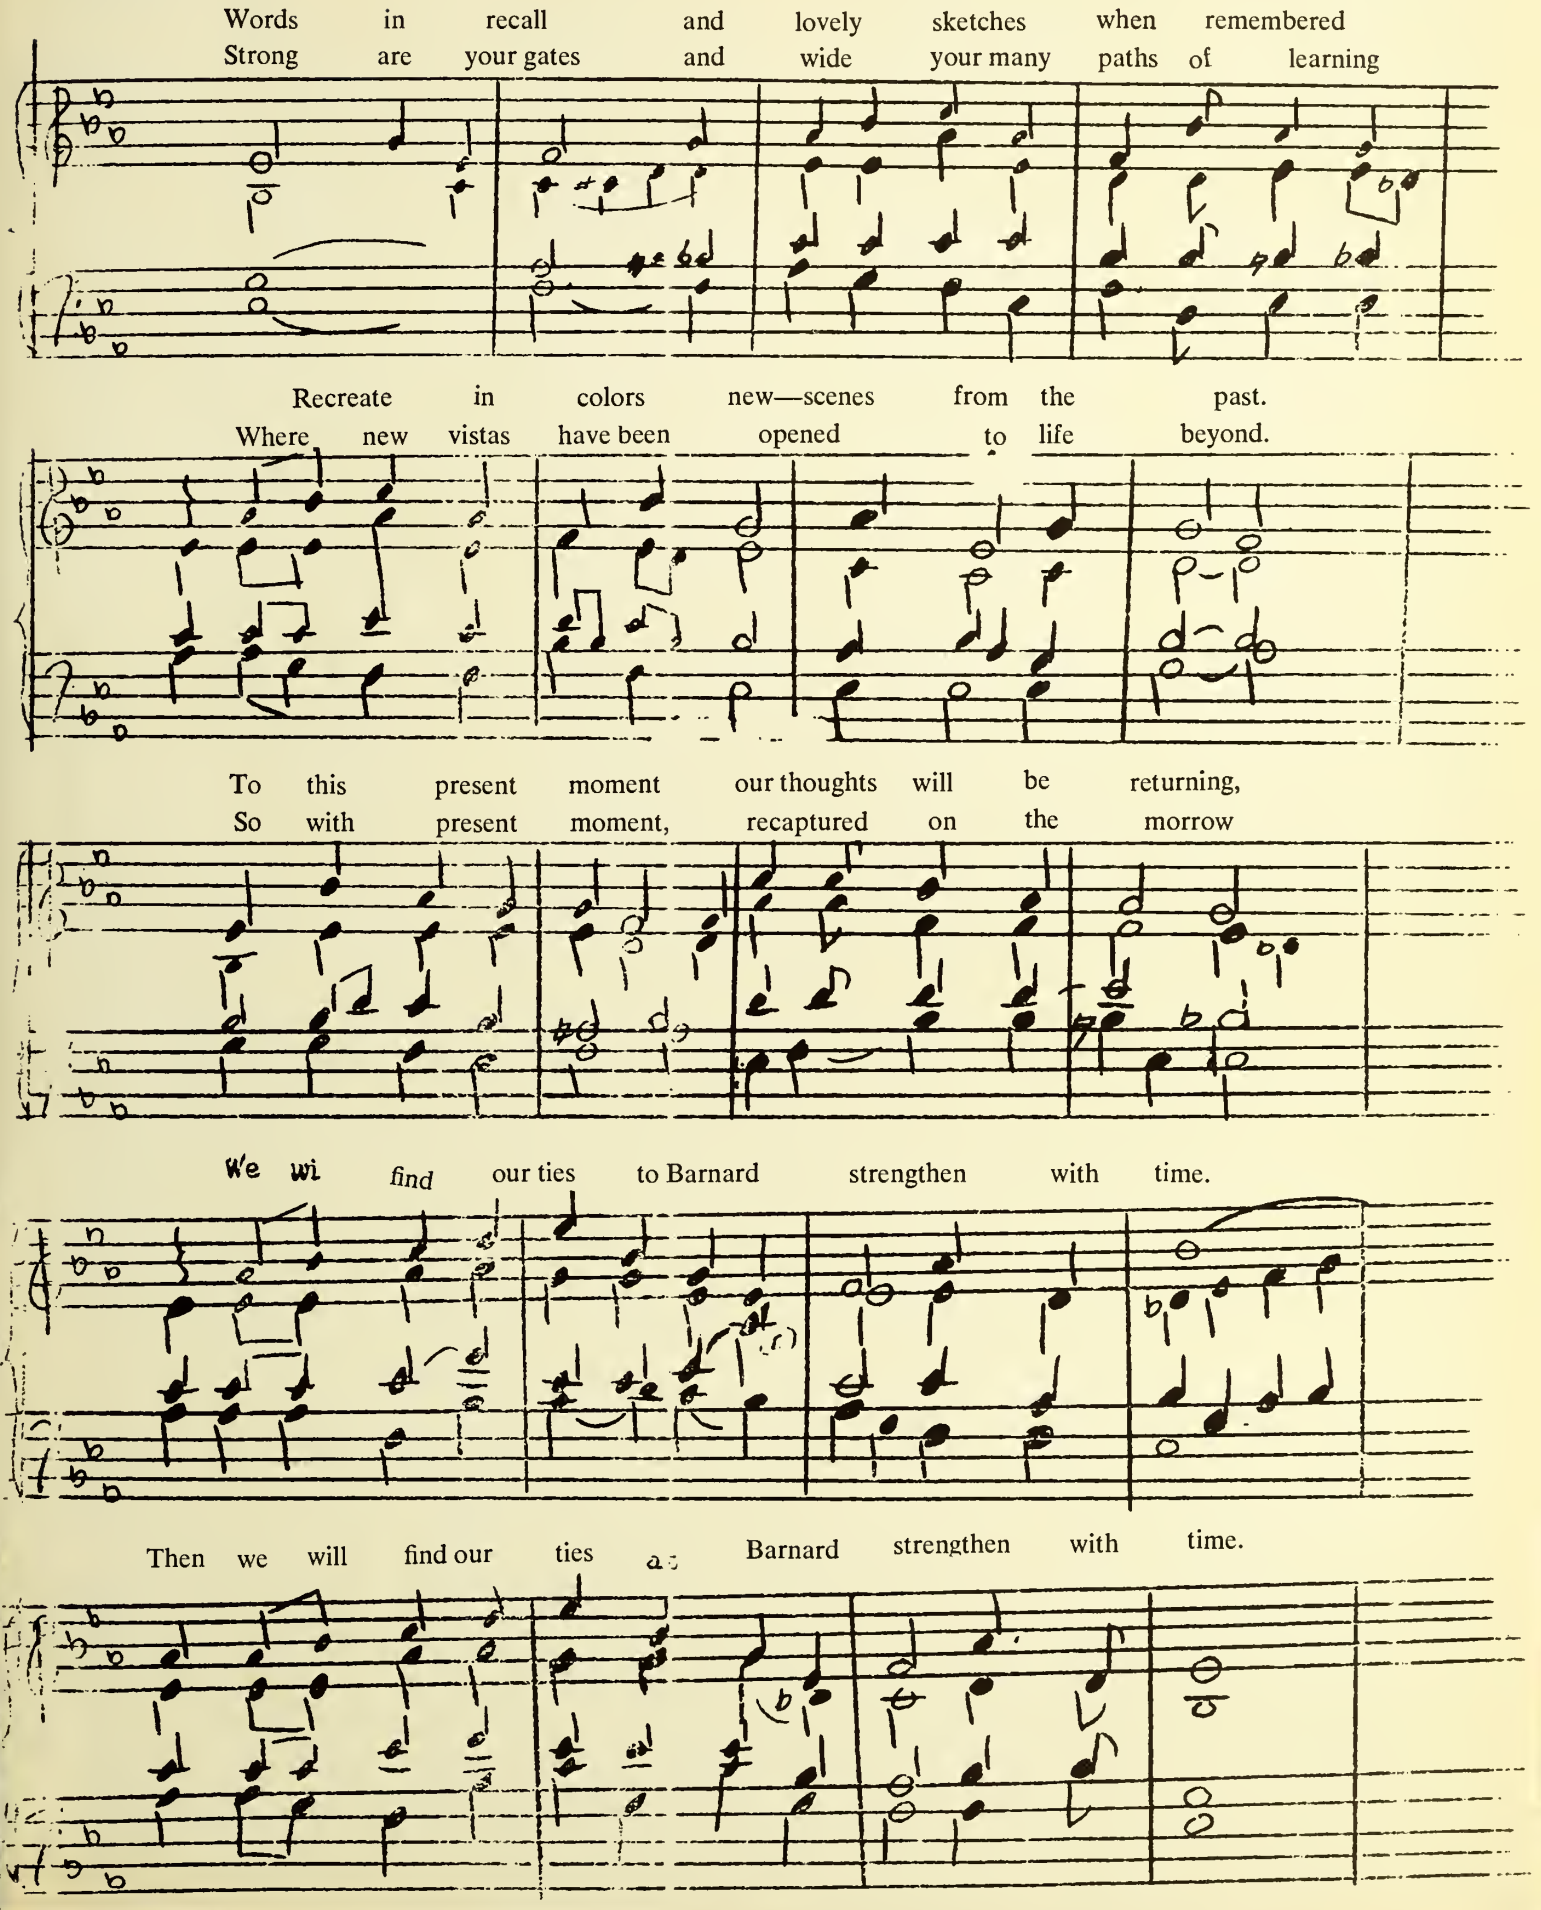
BARNARD SONG

Dedicated to Mrs. Millicent C. McIntosh—March 20, 1962

Reva Mark, Words

Dorothy Moskowitz, Music



Words in recall and lovely sketches when remembered
Strong are your gates and wide your many paths of learning
Recreate in colors new—scenes from the past.
Where new vistas have been opened to life beyond.
To this present moment our thoughts will be returning,
So with present moment, recaptured on the morrow
We wi find our ties to Barnard strengthen with time.
Then we will find our ties a Barnard strengthen with time.
